

I would like the commission to maintain its current rules prohibiting an individual or corporation from owning multiple media outlets in a single market. Allowing the further concentration of media ownership is a direct threat to our democracy.